

LYNBERG WATKINS

RUTH SEGAL

Partner | rsegal@lynberg.com | 213.625.8700

PRACTICE AREAS:

Appellate Practice

- Business and Commercial
- Labor and Employment
- Premises Liability
- Product Liability Defense
- Professional Liability Defense
- Toxic Substance Exposure Defense
- Transportation and Trucking

EDUCATION:

University of California, Los Angeles (B.A., 1982)

Southwestern Law School, Los Angeles (J.D., 1986)

BAR ADMISSIONS:

State Bar of California

PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATIONS:

The American Board of Trial Advocates

DRI

Association of Southern California Defense Counsel

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES:

ABOTA Jack Daniels Trial Academy

AWARDS:

American Jurisprudence Award for Torts

EXPERIENCE:

Ms. Ruth Segal is an experienced trial attorney, trying cases in both state and federal courts in California, Oregon, Arizona, and Indiana. She has been with the firm since 1987. Ms. Segal's practice focuses on transportation, employment, and class action litigation. She also has extensive experience in defending asbestos and other toxic tort litigation. She was involved in more than two years of trials in the Lockheed Litigation, defending a chemical company against claims of toxic exposure brought by more than 200 former employees of Lockheed who built the Stealth Bomber.

LYNBERG WATKINS

Ms. Segal was the owner of a therapy dog and found great satisfaction with their visits at the Ronald McDonald House to play with children undergoing serious medical treatment, and at school libraries to help children with learning disabilities improve their reading skills.